Dual Credit Changes for courses on the University of Idaho campus: For this academic year, the University of Idaho and the Idaho State Department of Education have decided students can use their Advanced Opportunity funds for dual credit courses that students take on the University of Idaho campus.

To demonstrate eligibility for a course, students must bring a copy of their transcript to the university professor they are requesting permission to take the class from. The Dual Credit office has sent out the following information on applying for dual credit courses on campus. Interested students should complete the steps below and meet with a high school counselor next week for classes to be taken on the UI campus. Please note, registration for dual credit classes being taken at Moscow High School will occur in September, and no action is necessary right now.*

How do students apply for dual credit courses on the UI campus?

1. Go to www.dualcredit.uidaho.edu, click on the Student link, and scroll down to How to Enroll.
2. Print out the Paper Registration Form/Instruction Sheet and follow the steps.
3. Meet with a high school counselor to discuss which courses to take and any scheduling issues.
4. Secure all signatures on the form and submit it to the Registrar's Office.

The Dual Credit office welcomes students and parents to visit the office, located on the 2nd floor of the College of Education, Health and Human Sciences in Room 225. They can help navigate the process from admissions to paying for classes. Questions? Call (208) 885-1168 or email dualcredit@uidaho.edu.

This is an exciting opportunity for students interested and prepared for classes on campus at UI! Please call us in the Counseling Center with questions!

That is all for now. We look forward to seeing you and your students soon!
